Emirates dons special ‘Year of the 50th’ livery

Walid Althab

Emirates Airlines is marking its 50th anniversary by unveiling a special ‘Year of the 50th’ livery. The airline will introduce the new design on select aircraft throughout the year, starting with its iconic Boeing 777-300ER, which will feature a commemorative livery on both sides of the aircraft fuselage in Arab Emirates.

The design features elements of the original ‘emirates’ logo from the UAE’s national day, creating a stronger brand identity. The Golden Shield, the airline’s iconic shield, will be displayed on the aircraft’s fuselage and tail fin, with the new design also appearing on the airline’s website, social media, and marketing materials.
